DETAILED ACTION

Non-Final Rejection

Information Disclosure Statement

Signed copies of IDS forms filed 7/08/2004 and 9/23/2005 are provided for the Applicant's records.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ishibashi (US 5,695,188) in view of DeMar et al. (US 6,315,660 hereafter: Demar).

Regarding claim 1, Ishibashi discloses the following:

A gaming machine comprising a variable display means for variably displaying a plurality of symbols, (Abstract & Col. 2. Lines 33-38);

Art Unit: 3714

Lottery means for executing a lottery of a winning combination, (Abstract);
(Please note that the broadest reasonable interpretation of a lottery extends to include schemes related to distribution of prizes by chance);

Stop button and stop means, (Col. 3. Lines 62-67);

Ishibashi, however, is seemingly silent regarding multiple displays, or a lower display as claimed.

In a related disclosure, DeMar teaches a gaming machine with a lower display, (Figure 1).

It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's disclosure to incorporate features of a lower display for the purpose of providing an additional means for conveying game state information.

Regarding claim 2, Ishibashi discloses an electric display means provided in front of the variable display means, (Col. 1. Lines 54-60);

Regarding claim 3, Ishibashi discloses game states resulting from predetermined conditions, (Col. 9. Lines 45-57), and the display indicates game information accordingly.

Effects based on operation order (or lack of operation such as no stop button activity) are also disclosed in this portion of the Ishibashi reference, (discloses limitations of Claim 9 as well).

However, Ishibashi does not explicitly disclose a special game mode (a bonus mode, for instance). The use of special game modes is well known in the gaming industry and such modes are used extensively in slot machines.

Art Unit: 3714

DeMar discloses special game modes and bonus rounds, (Abstract).

It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's disclosure to incorporate bonus gaming embodiments for the purpose of maximizing game appeal.

Additionally, please note that the variable display of Ishibashi would clearly accommodate such special modes.

Regarding claims 4-8, please refer to the rejections of claims 1-3 and 9, above.

Remarks

No claim is allowed.
